Resumes or CVs and cover letters

Your resume or Curriculum Vitae (CV) and cover letter are how you introduce yourself when applying for a job. Learn what to include and the best way to structure these documents.

Make a great first impression with an employer

Your resume or CV and cover letter are short, professional documents that you use to introduce yourself and outline your experience when applying for jobs.

Most job advertisements ask for both a resume or CV and cover letter.

What to include to stand out

Resumes or CVs

These include a summary of your education, work experience, achievements, and other relevant experience.

Cover letters

These include an introduction to yourself, and a summary of how your experience matches the job description.

→

Don't know where to start?

How to get a job in retail this shopping season

Tuesday, 29 July 2025 5:00pm (AEST)

For the retail industry, the last few months of the year are their busiest – the holiday shopping season. To meet the surge in demand, many retailers begin hiring staff as early as August!

For young people, this presents a fantastic opportunity to secure their first part-time job. It's not just a chance to earn some extra cash — it's a gateway to gaining valuable real-world experience and skills. It could even be their first step toward a fulfilling career in retail.

Join us for an insightful webinar featuring Sandee Harris, a retail industry expert from the Australian Government Department of Employment and Workplace Relations.

Sandee will share insider knowledge on how retail employers hire staff, how young job seekers can stand out in a competitive market and how to apply. Topics covered will include:

- What employers look for in candidates
- Tips to make your application shine
- Online applications and Artificial Intelligence (AI)

Whether you're looking for your first job or helping someone else, this webinar will provide lots of helpful tips and information.

Navigating your post-school plans with confidence

Thursday, 21 August 2025 6:00pm (AEST)

School is such a big part of your life, you might have mixed feelings as you approach the end of it. You might be excited about your next steps. But it's okay if you're not sure about your post-school plans or feeling a bit anxious or overwhelmed about it all.

In this pre-recorded webinar, you'll hear about six simple ideas that will help you think about your future with confidence. Some of them might surprise you! We'll talk about:

- Different kinds of post-school pathways.
- Why it's OK if you don't know what you want to do.
- Why it's OK to change your mind.
- Why ATAR might not be as important as you think.
- How to research your options.
- Who to talk to for help.

This webinar is designed for students in senior secondary school, but it's suitable for parents and teachers too. If you can't make it to the live webinar, register anyway, and we'll send you the recording to watch later.

ARTS AFTER DARK: Empowering education through AI: Revolution or evolution?

Wednesday, 30 July 2025 5.45-8.00pm

12 Wally's Walk, Macquarie University Wallamattagul Campus

Artificial intelligence is already transforming classrooms across the globe, reshaping how students learn and how educators teach. From personalised learning and reduced workloads to expanding access and equity, AI promises to revolutionise education. But thoughtful conversations are needed: How can we balance its opportunities with its challenges? Can AI enhance critical thinking, promote culturally responsive learning, and bridge the digital divide? And what ethical responsibilities come with its integration into our schools and universities?

This is a conversation for anyone interested in the future of education—whether you're a teacher, student, parent, researcher, or simply curious about how technology is shaping the way we learn. Hosted by Professor Peter Greste, the evening will feature a keynote by Dr Paul Wood and thought-provoking discussions with Professor Matt Bower, Dr Jodie Torrington and Dr Tamika Worrell.

University of Sydney - ARTiculate Economics | Trade Wars: Will Tariffs Make Anyone Great Again?

20 August

Donald Trump's tariffs are upending the global economic order as we know it. After decades of globalisation, a trade war between the world's two largest economies, the US and China, is reverberating through supply chains, financial markets and international institutions. This interactive talk will draw on a range of different economic lenses and data points to reconsider the arguments for free trade versus economic protectionism in the Trump era. It will demonstrate how a political economy approach is essential for understanding the forces that are shaping the future of the global economy, and Australia's place in it, in highly uncertain times.

University of Sydney - ARTiculate Ancient History | Ethical considerations for the care and management of human remains in museums and the field

2 September

What constitutes the respectful and dignified care and display of human remains? As attitudes keep shifting, how do we, as museum curators and archaeologists, sensitively navigate the many different historical and contemporary perspectives and opinions? This talk will draw on the latest research underway at the Chau Chak Wing Museum into the ethical care, treatment, interpretation and display of human remains, with a particular focus on Egypt. It will consider the perspectives of researcher, museum visitor, descent communities and museum professionals, as well as different cultural contexts and the ancient dead. The talk will also address the legacies of colonial collecting practices inherited by museum curators, as well as other ethical issues posed by modern scientific analysis and restitution.

Simulated UCAT Day Workshop: 2-part program

Next Available Class: 12 July

If you are in Yrs. 10, 11, 12, or you may be older and considering sitting the UCAT in the future, then this program is for you. The Simulated UCAT Workshop program is ideal and often a necessary step towards effective and efficient preparation for the UCAT.

This event will be conducted by the National Institute of Education in partnership with UCAT Preparation Australia, and MICAS (Medical Interviews and Career Advice Services).

The workshop is primarily designed to cover fundamental techniques in navigating all five sections of the UCAT test and also for participants to gain a better understanding of their own level of preparedness for the test.

Medical Interviews Preparation Workshop - Places Filling for Remaining 2025 Dates

9-10 August, 23-24 August, 6-7 Sept, 20-21 Sept - Online

13 Sept - In Person (Chatswood)

An intensive Medical Interviews Preparation Workshop for students who received or expecting to receive an interview offer for the Undergraduate Medical Schools in Australia.

The unique NIE workshop program aims for students to gain an in-depth understanding and required knowledge of the medical interview processes for specific universities, including Multi-station Mini Interview (MMI), Structured, and Semi-structured panel interviews. The workshop is structured and based on the models that are taught during our proven one-on-one personalised medical interview sessions. The workshop will allow each and every attendee to learn the required skills and practical understanding for the university from which they received an interview offer from.

UCAT Practice Tests and Question Banks

These example questions and practice tests are produced by the UCAT Consortium and are representative of the live test. We recommend you use these official materials to prepare for your test. Don't forget to read the information about the Test Tools before you start, as it explains how to use the on-screen calculator and keyboard shortcuts.

Although introduced to Australia and New Zealand in 2019, the UCAT has been used for over 12 years in the UK under the historic test name UKCAT. These UCAT preparation materials represent the content of the UCAT ANZ test and should be used to familiarise yourself with the test format and to prepare for the test. As practice materials are compiled from previous test questions, there may be a higher proportion of questions with a UK context than you will see in the UCAT ANZ.

<https://www.ucat.edu.au/prepare/practice-tests/>

UCAT Preparation Advice and Resources

We advise you to prepare for the UCAT using the free official practice materials which have been developed by the UCAT Consortium. We believe that all everyone should have access to free preparation materials to support their test preparation. The resources and advice below have been produced by ourselves using feedback from previous high-scoring candidates.

UCAT Test Day

It is important to read this information to ensure your test day runs smoothly. The information below outlines the test centre experience. You should familiarise yourself with the UCAT ANZ Examination Rules before your appointment. These explain what you must do if you have any issues during testing. Please also refer to the Test Day Problems section.

<https://www.ucat.edu.au/sit/test-day/>

UCAT ANZ Test Format

The UCAT is a two-hour computer-based test which assesses a range of abilities identified by universities as important to practicing in the fields of medicine / dentistry / clinical sciences. The test consists of five separately timed subtests which each contain a number of questions in a multiple-choice format.

Once the test has started it cannot be paused but each subtest is preceded by a 1 minute instruction section.

Candidates can apply for Access Arrangements to sit an extended version of the test if they have a documented medical condition or disability.
