PAREMEDICINE AND NURSING

It is possible to study a Nursing degree or a Paramedicine degree at Rozelle in Sydney through the University of Tasmania. They can be studied as three year degrees or 2 year accelerated degrees.

In July a taster day is to be held at Rozelle for interested students and an Open Day is to be held in August.

Bachelor of Paramedicine

From providing life-saving care to navigating diverse medical situations with confidence, a career in paramedicine is an opportunity to make a difference where it matters most.

Fast-track your entry into the workforce with our 2 year Bachelor of Paramedicine, offered at both our Hobart and Sydney campuses. Studying paramedicine not only equips you with the skills and knowledge required to deliver high-level patient care, but opens the door to a career in research, health services management, and specialised clinical care.

You will develop clinical expertise through participation in small group workshops, tutorials, and immersive clinical simulations in our purpose built facilities. Our extensive placement program will embed you with national and international partner organisations to give real-world experience.

If you're ready to embark on an exciting career with a meaningful impact, where you'll tackle dynamic challenges daily, and be at the forefront of an ever-evolving industry, then paramedicine is the pathway for you.

Enter the workplace sooner with a 2-year fast-track degree.

Hands-on learning from experienced clinicians and industry partners.

Diverse employment prospects with opportunity for growth and development.

UAC

UAC - Year 12 students: early offers explained

If you're in Year 12 and planning to go to uni next year, there are plenty of opportunities to lock in an early offer before you get your ATAR. In many cases, with just a little effort, you can finish school feeling a bit more relaxed about what's in store for next year.

But it's important to remember that most offers to Year 12 students are made in late December, after ATARs have been released. This is because the ATAR is one of the main tools universities use to select students for courses.

We highly recommend you make the most of all the opportunities universities give you to increase your chances of being selected for their courses.

UCAT Verbal Reasoning Advanced Skills Masterclass

15 June

The UCAT Verbal Reasoning construct assesses the candidate's ability to analyse, identify, and comprehend information quickly from passages where much of the information may be irrelevant to the question. As is in the medical field, doctors often have to deal with a great deal of data in client files where they need the capacity to identify important and relevant information quickly, come to correct conclusions or to critique information where required. The advantages of a masterclass crash course in Verbal Reasoning Skills which targets areas of reading for responses, identifying keywords, difficult language, and loaded questioning can be beneficial in using your time effectively and therefore optimising your results.

What is the difference between an apprenticeship and a traineeship?

What is the difference between an apprenticeship and a traineeship? The main difference is that a traineeship is offered in a broader range of occupations and is shorter - typically over one or two years. An apprenticeship covers skilled trades and takes a lot longer - usually three to four years, either full or part-time.

To Gap or not to Gap? Should I Travel or Should I Study

Going from years of rigorous schedules and same-old school, adult life hits you pretty hard when it all wraps up. Suddenly weekdays become free, there's no need to worry about school nights and the workload alters. Also, more choices come your way while you're basking in your newfound freedom. One key question is if and when you want to take off and travel the world. For a holiday or for a journey. For a gap year or for a tourist sightseeing expedition. Normally determined by your post-school schedule and bank account, the decision creeps into a lot of people's minds. So what should you consider when it comes to making this decision?

Future Farmers! Education is the Key

Once upon a time, a career in agriculture was fairly limited. Reserved primarily for people that grew up in rural and remote areas, it encompassed general farming practices and required no qualifications. However, times have changed. High school graduates from the inner city are taking up agriculture degrees and there is more scope to study in the metropolitan area, rather than making the trek to a rural campus several hours away.

The best things about a career in dietetics

We asked two dietitians what they love about their job. Sally Marchini said that it is helping people to understand their health concerns and improve their life, and Josh Reed said that it's motivating and empowering people and learning how to improve his own health. There is plenty of variety in the university course, which includes statistics, psychology, physiology, biochemistry, nutrition sciences, food science as well as being competent in the three main areas of dietetics – clinical, food service management and community dietetics. This gives a range of potential career paths with a dietetics degree. Dietitian Megan Ariotti talks about community dietetics in terms of running a group program.

Australian Science Olympiads

Exams run 4 - 7 August

The Australian Science Olympiads are a staged science enrichment program for highly motivated students in Australian high schools.

The ultimate goal of the Australian Science Olympiads is to select the team to represent Australia at the International Science Olympiads.

We have been coordinating the selection of the international team for over thirty-five years.

The Australian Science Olympiad Exams are challenging but rewarding online exams held once a year

Following the completion of the exams, students may be offered a place in our pathway programs. All programs are by invitation-only.
