Term 4, Week 7 – 2025

DEFENCE FORCE – AUSTRALIAN DEFENCE FORCE ACADEMY

If you want to join the Australian Defence Force Academy (ADFA), it is good to allow about a year for the application process. If you are starting Year 12 now and are wanting to join ADFA, take a moment to begin investigating the application process.

To join ADFA, you have to apply to the Defence Force and also to UNSW-Canberra

This link will help you... Australian Defence Force Academy - ADF Careers

The following extract “Application process” is from the link.

Application process

Applying for ADFA requires two applications. You will be applying for an officer role in the Navy, Army or Air Force as well as a UNSW degree program, so you will need to submit separate applications that meet the entry requirements of both. As the process takes up to 12 months, it's preferable you start the application process in Year 11, but you can still apply in Year 12.

Because joining ADFA is a pathway to being an Officer in the Defence Force, part of the application process involves attending an online Officer Selection Board meeting. To make yourself more competitive, it is helpful to be involved in some leadership roles as you have opportunity.

EARLY OFFERS FOR UNIVERSITY STUDY

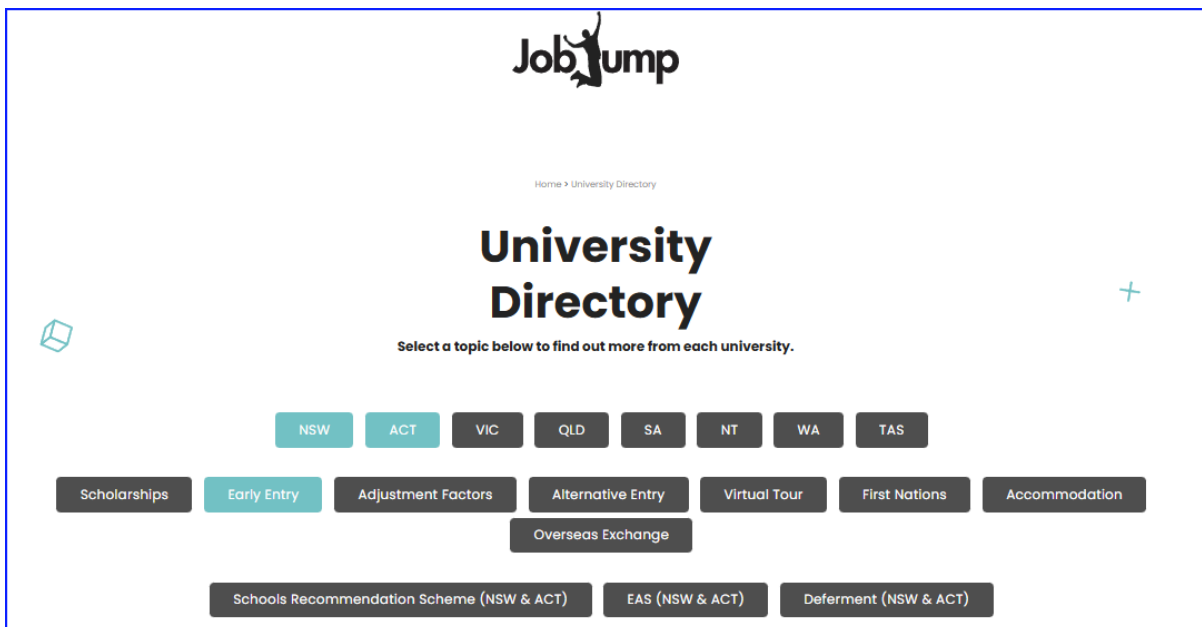

Generally, for most if not all cases, it is too early for University early offer programs for University entry in 2027 as they are not open yet. However, if you want to begin to look into what may become available with respect to early offers for University study in 2027, you might like to look at the following resources...

- The following link to the UAC website Early offer schemes for Year 12 students - UAC will be helpful (although you may find that information is not yet updated for 2026).

The screenshot shows the UAC website interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text "What do you need help with?". To the right of the search bar are links for "Key dates", "Browse courses", and "Apply / log in". Below the search bar is a navigation menu with items: "Planning", "Applying", "After you apply", "For schools", "Enterprise", and "Media". The main content area features a large image of a young man with curly hair sitting at a desk with a laptop. Overlaid on the image is the text "Undergraduate applications and offers". Below the image is a breadcrumb trail: "Home / Current applicants / Undergraduate applications and offers / Early offer schemes for Year 12 students". The main heading is "Early offer schemes for Year 12 students". The text below the heading reads: "While the ATAR is still the main selection tool used by most unis, there are other ways for you to show that you're ready to succeed at tertiary study. Many institutions have one or more early offer schemes for Year 12 students. Through these schemes, the institutions will assess you using criteria other than (or in addition to) your ATAR. Always check the institution websites to make sure the courses you are applying for are covered by the schemes."

- The Job Jump program also has a section about early entry. Under the "Uni" menu item, click "All You Need" and then click the button for "Early Entry". JobJump. (You may find that information is not yet updated for 2026)

- Each tertiary organisation may have their particular early entry program(s) so it is helpful to look at their websites and do a search on "early entry"

Marine Discovery Series - Public Lecture

Maybe you have heard of ideas like marine cloud brightening, stratospheric aerosol injection, space mirrors? What about artificial marine fog, arctic ice thickening, a push for white roofs? All of these things are forms of 'solar radiation management'. Actions designed to cool the Earth's surface by changing the balance of how much of the sun's energy is reflected into space and how much is absorbed here on Earth. Some of these ideas work locally while others are more outlandish, such as aiming to counter the effects of global warming by cooling the entire planet. Some of these techniques are being researched at Southern Cross University in an effort to develop them for local to regional scale applications to cool and shade corals during marine heatwave events, thereby reducing coral bleaching. In this talk, Dr. Harrison will talk about what is sometimes referred to as Plan C for civilisation, it may be coming sooner than you think.
